

AGENDA

New forms of worker management based on artificial intelligence (AI) and their implications for occupational safety and health (OSH)

Virtual workshop

Date: 4 November 2021, 10.00 – 15.00 (CET)

- 10.00-10.15 Welcome and introduction
Emmanuelle Brun, EU-OSHA
- 10.15-10.25 Latest EU policy developments on digitalisation, AI and OSH
Jesús Francisco Alvarez Hidalgo, European Commission
- 10.25-10.50 Setting the scene: definitions and uptake of AI-based worker management, effects on OSH, and overview of the regulatory contexts and policy initiatives in the EU
Dr. Karin Reinhold, Tallinn University of Technology; Dr. Marina Järvis; Tallinn University of Technology
- 10.50-11.30 The experts' perspective
Dr. Christina Colclough, The Why Not Lab
Prof. Valerio de Stefano, KU Leuven
Prof. Adrian Todoli, University of Valencia
Prof. Yves Roquelaure, University of Angers
- 11.30-12.00 Questions and Answers
Moderator: Maurizio Curtarelli (EU-OSHA)
- 12.00-12.15 Break
- 12.15-13.00 Parallel group work sessions
Breakout room 1 facilitator: Dr. Marina Järvis, Tallinn University of Technology
Breakout room 2 facilitator: Dr. Karin Reinhold, Tallinn University of Technology
- 13.00-14.00 Lunch Break
- 14:00-14:20 Reporting back from the parallel group work sessions
Moderator: Emmanuelle Brun, EU-OSHA
- 14.20-14.50 Final discussion session
Moderator: Emmanuelle Brun, EU-OSHA
- 14.50-15.00 Wrap-up and Closing of the event
Emmanuelle Brun and Maurizio Curtarelli, EU-OSHA